—Wizard Oil at Geo. Thaxter's.

—WANTED—A girl to do general housework. Apply at this office.

—W. J. Marsh, the Lyon County cattle man and a delegate is at the Arlington.

—Black Wallace is in the city attending to his combinations and rustling around.

—They say that the best looking man before the Convention is Hank Davis, candidate for Governor.

—Over 70 Knights of Pythias were entertained by the Carson Lodge last evening at the Ormsby.

—“Blood-food” is the suggestive name often given to Ayer's Sarsaparilla, because of its blood-enriching qualities.

—There is a vague rumor in the atmosphere that Cleveland of White Pine is coming in as a gubernatorial candidate.

—Try Ayer's Pills, and be cured. Misery is a mild word to describe the mischief caused to body and mind caused by habitual constipation. The regular use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills in mild doses, will restore the torpid viscera to healthy action.

—The New York World's London special of September 19th says: Nevada will not sing this season. Her managers lost heavily on her in America last season, but her contract was so favorable to herself that she made quite a handsome sum. She is just now engaged in taking care of a young baby in Paris.

The Coming State Fair.

The Nevada State Fair commences on the 4th of October and continues five days. The citizens of Reno are making preparations to receive the crowd of visitors that is likely to be present during Fair week, and the managers of the Fair are doing all in their power to further the interests of the exhibition and make it the most successful ever held in the State. A large number of California trotting and running horses will be on hand to take part in the races. Several Oregon horses will also take part in the races, which promise to be exciting and interesting.

The stock parade and exhibition will be unusually good this year, as many of the cattle and sheep men of the State have signified their willingness to send some of their finest animals to Reno.

The large pavilion in Reno is being put in shape to receive the extensive display which is sure to be on hand when the doors are ready to open. Elko county ought to make a good exhibition both at the grounds and in the pavilion. Start in early and have something ready for the Fair.—Elko Free Press.

School Books.

We have on hand at the Pioneer Book Store of J. G. Fox, a complete stock of all books used in the schools of this State. Also a full line of school stationery at reduced prices. Harper's New Geographies exchanged for Cornell's.

P. B. ELLIS, Agent.

The Crow Trial.

The Crow Trial will be fairly under way this morning and will probably be in progress over a week. The sympathy of the community now seems changing from the accused and the defence expect to present some very strong evidence not before made public in extenuation of the act.

To Mothers Only.

Before the opening of school do not fail to go to Bergman's and buy some of those 50 cent and 75 cent Pants for your Boys as they are going very fast.

WANTED—Ladies to work for me. Sew, knit or travel; something made; no photo, no painting; particulars free. MRS. U. K. LITTLE, aug 26/90 Box 443, Chicago, Ill.

Plumbing.

J. H. McGuirk the plumber, is now situated in the Opera House block and all jobs of tinning and plumbing entrusted to his care will be attended to in a workmanlike manner, and you don't have to mortgage your house to pay or it.

When baby was sick, we gave her Castor's. When she was a child she cried for Castor's. When she became a Miss, she clung to Castor's. When she had children, she gave them Castor's.

THE CRANKS IN COUNCIL.

AN INTERESTING SESSION OF GROWLERS, CRANKS AND HUGWUMPS.

A Full and Authentic Report of the Proceedings.

Yesterday afternoon the cranks of Carson assembled in the Opera House, holding their regular annual convention. As the call had been only advertised in their regular organ, few people of this city outside the members of the conclave, knew anything of the proceedings.

ORGANIZATION.

The session was called to order by Dr. Herrick, who briefly stated the objects of the gathering as follows:

“Members of the Convention—I am glad to see so many of you here. People call us cranks but that don't bother me any. There is an effort here in Carson to set down on us; but they'll find it can't be done.”

[Here the speaker paused and inquired of one of the men nearest him if Dan Corbett was in the hall, and ascertaining that he was not, remarked that he would wait until everybody was there before he proceeded. The reporter ascertained that Mr. Corbett was expected to be on hand when the Doctor spoke and pounced on the floor with his cane at certain places. Mr. William Corbett kindly consented to act until Dan could be found, and borrowing a cane from Major Garrard told Dr. Herrick that everything was ready. The speech then proceeded.—Rep.]

“I say that we are all here and we mean business.” [He paused here, but William did not respond.—Rep.]

“We mean business, I say.” [Here Judge Harris made some motions at William, who pounded vigorously with his cane, and the whole convention applauded.]

“Are you always going to be (applause and cheers) are you always going to be (applause and stamping) bound hand and foot (applause) by these bosses? (cheers) Do you want to be (cheers) (tumultuous applause.) I am a Republican (applause) but this year I am not anything (cheers) like as good (applause) a Republican as I was (applause and stamping).”

Here the speaker paused again, and whispering to Judge Harris begged him to go down and steer William into a more discriminating use of the cane.

“Hang him,” said the Doctor, “he acts like a blasted lunatic, and don't applaud right.”

“You are talking a little wild yourself,” whispered Garrard, who was behind him.

“Is Harris going to run the stick?” asked a man on the platform, anxiously, “if he is we're gone.”

Just then Dan Corbett entered the hall, and apologizing for his lateness, took the cane from William with a frowning expression of countenance, and remarking in a low voice, “All set,” motioned to Herrick to proceed.

Dan, who had for several months acted as chief clapper at the anti-Chinese meetings, started the applause at the right place, and the speaker fell to his work with much more confidence than before, but was still a little shaky.

The applause was started with much more discrimination. After the speech Herrick called Dan behind the curtain and remarked:

“Dan why the deuce didn't you pounce with the cane when I spoke about Senator Stewart sending to China for his newspapers? You didn't throw in as much noise as usual man.”

“I was promised some money for this work and it don't seem to come. I can't applaud your speeches for ever for nothing.”

Then Dan muttered something about the ingratitude of men and turned away.

PLATFORM AND RESOLUTIONS. The committee on Platform and Resolutions submitted the following:

Whereas—We the recognized cranks of Carson having been placed in the background for several years and having been outstripped in the race for effiecy more enterprising men.

Resolved That we declare war on every man who pays taxes on over $1,000 worth of property.

Resolved That we run the city of Carson our own way, or bust it.

Whereas, the V. & T. R. R. employ 150 men and pay the highest wages.

Resolved That the bosses of the road be hereby declared the enemies of labor.

Whereas, William Garrard, L. A. Herrick, C. N. Harris, Judge Healey; do not employ any laboring men.

Resolved That we hereby declare them to be the only true friend of the working class in this city.

Whereas, William Stewart defeated Charles Summer in his attempt to give the right of suffrage to the Chinese and fought for the silver interests in Washington.

Resolved That we declare him the friend of Mongolian servile labor and an enemy to the State.

Whereas, The said Stewart has spent $12,000 in this city for improvements and paying wages.

Resolved That he get up and dust and be pronounced as the enemy of the working men, a carpet bagger, an alien and a fraud of the first and second magnitude.

Whereas, Hon. James G. Fair has neglected his constituent at Washington spent all his money out of this State, and carried all his bullion past the Carson Mint, thereby helping to close its doors.

Resolved That he is the friend of this Convention and also anybody else who will help ruin this town.

Whereas, Numerous members of the Republican Party in this city have built houses; improved their city lots and added to the tax valuation in Ormsby.

Resolved That we look upon them as “bosses” and drive them out of town if possible.

Whereas, The Crank Clique of this city have never yet won a political fight.

Resolved That we keep on raising the devil all the same until our claims be recognized.

When the reading of the platform was finished there was a dead silence and Harris made another signal for Dan Corbett to thump the floor with his cane which caused an immediate response of applause, and it was unanimously adopted.

A resolution was then adopted to the effect that the Democratic Convention meet at once, and endorse the platform and pledge the party to also endorse whatever nominations the cranks might make.
